

On June 30, 2004, between 3:00 and 4:00 am, while watching the the Fox News Channel, during a promo for The Neil Cavuto Show, the commercial showed a pornographic website and what appeared to be vaginal penetration with a penis or penis-like object. A breast was blurred, but the penis insertion was not. This is unacceptable. Please investigate and fine. And the fine should be more than that levied for the showing of a bare breast, which isn't even a sexual organ.
